

Notice of Data Breach

Southern Ohio Medical Center (“SOMC”) is notifying individuals of data incident. To date, we have no evidence of actual or attempted misuse of information as a result of this incident. This notice provides details about the incident, our response, and resources available to help protect information.

What Happened? On November 11, 2021, SOMC discovered we were the victim of a cyber event impacting our internal systems. We immediately worked to secure our network and launched an investigation with the assistance of third-party specialists to determine the nature and scope of the incident. The investigation determined that some of SOMC’s systems were subject to unauthorized access between November 10, 2021 and November 11, 2021. During this time the unauthorized actor accessed and potentially obtained certain files. We reviewed those files to determine what, if any sensitive information was contained therein. This review was completed on March 4, 2022. Thereafter, we worked to locate address information for impacted individuals in order to notify them of this event, which was completed on March 21, 2022.

What Information Was Involved? The impacted information varied by individual but may include Social Security number, treatment or diagnosis information, health insurance information, date of birth, Passport number, U.S. Alien Registration number, or employer ID number.

What We Are Doing. SOMC is committed to safeguarding information in its care and has strict security measures in place. Upon learning of this incident, we moved quickly to investigate and respond and to confirm the security of our systems. We notified the FBI and are notifying relevant state regulators. As part of our ongoing commitment to privacy of information in our care, we reviewed our existing systems and policies and implemented additional safeguards to further secure the information in our systems. We are offering 24 months of complimentary access to identity monitoring services through Experian to impacted individuals.

What You Can Do. SOMC does not have any evidence of misuse of personal information at this time. However, in general SOMC encourages individuals to remain vigilant by reviewing documents for suspicious activity, including health insurance statements, explanation of benefits forms, account statements and credit reports and to report unfamiliar activity to relevant entities immediately. Individuals may also consider the resource information below.

For More Information. Individuals with questions may contact SOMC’s dedicated call center at (888) 401-0548 (toll free), Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. Eastern, or Saturday and Sunday from 11:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Eastern, excluding major US holidays.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a credit freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);

2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
